Goonj
GOONJ, the dramatics society of Ajay Kumar Garg Engineering College, Ghaziabad, founded in 2005, encompasses every domain related to dramatics. The domains mainly include Play, Skit, Nukkad-Natak, Mime, Mono Act, Stand-up comedy, Hindi Debate, Ad-Mad and much more. Different domains inculcate different skills, thus being a part of Goonj requires a person's wholesome development. The objective of the society is to foster social and intellectual activity among the students and to create interest in and encourage talent for Drama and Theatre. Dramatics is not just about imitating a character or a situation, it is more about observing real life issues, events or daily aspects of life and expressing them to bring about a change for the betterment of society. It is all about representing an idea, an idea which is expressed through acting. But acting is again living in a different character, it needs possession of every detail of the character and transforming oneself into a different person. Dramatics is a way by which ideas and people evolve into something different which creates a change, an awareness in people. For the purpose of providing a platform to the students of AKGEC to hone their skills in dramatics, GOONJ also provides exposure to external opportunities. Goonj has always taken part in various fields of dramatics and has been victorious bringing glory to college.

It is all about representing an idea, an idea which is expressed through acting. But acting is again living in a different character, it needs possession of every detail of the character and transforming oneself into a different person. Dramatics is a way by which ideas and people evolve into something different which creates a change, an awareness in people. For the purpose of providing a platform to the students of AKGEC to hone their skills in dramatics, GOONJ also provides exposure to external opportunities. Goonj has always taken part in various fields of dramatics and has been victorious bringing glory to college.

V-Verve, the fashion society of Ajay Kumar Garg Engineering College, Ghaziabad was founded on 29th April 2017. We speak the language of fashion.

Embracing the fashion from within, team Verve sets forth the direction to discover one's true place in the fashion world. We define our model's individuality where images out infinity.

With stardust in the soul, confidence in one's body, our models walk rapturously. Our designers with their apex of creativity immerse themselves into fantasy and fiction and pour out the elegance.

Our tech-savvy members with their ebullient technical skills make their presence felt everywhere. As the cruise to every tide and a wheel to every route, the team had intently been the pillar to every hardship.

We strive hard for the embodiment and focus on the minimal to breathe out the grace.
